Foreword

Since the beginning of time man has made music, either with his voice, or with crude instruments he could create. From those early beginnings music has grown to be the universal language, loved and understood by all those who hear it, no matter what their nationality may be. It seems that when any great event takes place, music is written to commemorate it. All the great stories in the history of mankind have been set to music. Perhaps our story is not a great one, but it's a story we wish to remember, one that will mean much to us in years to come. So we have put the story of our school year together within the framework of a musical theme.

All the feelings and emotions of our school life can be expressed as well as recalled through the median of music. Some melody will call to memory gay, happy carefree hours such as the close friendships we made, the winning of that most important basketball game, the warm feeling that came when we had a report card so good we were proud to take it home to Dad and Mother. But other music will recall the more serious moments of school life, the long hard hours spent in study, disappointment over a lost football game, the hurt which came when we failed to live up to the best we could do.

It is the hope of the Yearbook Staff that when you look back on some future date at this year's "School Symphony" you can recall your part in the presentation with pride and joy.

- Because homemaking is as important to the foundations of America as the stringed instruments are to the symphony,

- Because you have prepared many girls for this all important vocation,

- Because of your capable direction of the cafeteria,

- Because of your willingness to help in any way possible with the school program,

- Because of your Christian outlook on life and the sincere interest you take in all your friends and students,

- Because of these things we dedicate the twenty-fourth volume of the WARRIOR to you, Mrs. Geneva P. Griffin.

ALMA MATER

Here a-mong the Blue Ridge Moun-tains, With the skies of blue,
Far a-way the bus-y hum-ming of a bust-ling town,

Stands our no-ble Al-ma Ma-ter, Glo-ri-ous to view.
Reared a-gainst the arch of heav-en, Looks she proud-ly on.

REFRAIN

Lift the cho-rus, speed it on-ward, Loud our prais-es tell.

Hail to thee, our Al-ma Ma-ter! Hail, O hail, Trout-ville

The string section of a symphony, composed mainly of the violins, forms the foundation and background against which the solo instruments perform. Our faculty also provides us with the background and foundation we need for bringing out our individual capabilities so that we as students can play our parts to the best advantage.

The piano is an instrument with many notes, each with a different tone, but all blending together to create harmony and beauty when properly played. Just so, a good school is composed of individual students, each with different personalities and possibilities, yet all working together to create a harmonious and unified whole.

SENIORS

The last chord of "Pomp and Circumstance" is heard. The capped and gowned seniors are seated. The 1956 Commencement Exercises begin with the usual formalities. The audience along with the seniors clap to recognize the speaker and there is a faint shuffle as some change their positions in order to be more comfortable while absorbing the sage advice being given. But the seniors' minds are too filled with high school memories to remember any but small parts of the advice.

Perhaps a quiet smile appears on a senior face as the memories of their first day in high school are brought to mind. One remembers how nervous and silly they were as they gathered in small insignificant, giggling groups, hoping to impress some upper classmen. Being quite "green" to high school life the class did not enter into many activities. The year was highlighted by the picnic of hot dogs and baked beans.

As Freshmen "rats" the class got into the swing by joining clubs and participating in sports.

The class supported the school by observing and taking part in the co-curricular activities and by presenting an assembly. Money for the class treasury was raised by selling magazines.

The next year proved to be the half way mark in high school. As Sophomores we again took part in the magazine sale in order to raise money. An assembly based on the idea of a quiz show was presented. The school year was again ended by a class picnic.

Juniors! How proud it made you feel to be titled as such. This year brought new activities. The entire class contributed in one way or another to the production of the Junior Play, "Down to Earth." A social was also given by the class in honor of the seniors.

The climactic year was finally reached as the twenty-eight remaining seniors returned to complete their high school calendar. All were interested in raising money for their trip to Washington, D. C., and worked industriously in bake sales, magazine sales and other money-making schemes. Members of the class again produced a play given to the public.

The seniors are brought back to reality by a clapping ovation recognizing the speaker. The solemn faced graduates realize this is the end of their school days at Troutville High. Some will march out the door and enter those of higher learning. Some will leave their desks for ironing boards, and some will forsake the basketball courts to join the armed services. But all will commence their life in their community, nation, and world.

SAY IT WITH MUSIC

symbol of progress...

As graduation nears, let's take a serious look at the past. We see that education has been largely responsible for the progress of our nation.

Why? Education is PROGRESS.

Today — more than ever before — industry, business and labor, all, know the true values of a good educational system. EDUCATION continues to stand as a true symbol of PROGRESS.

The French Horn is one of the most effective instruments used in a symphony, yet one which takes much hard study and practice to play well. This could well symbolize our classes, because classwork is indeed difficult at times, but it is truly our most effective means of preparation for future living.

Usually when a harp begins to play the other instruments cease playing entirely or provide a very soft and subdued background for the harp to be well heard. So it is with our Activities in the School Symphony. They provide a quiet, pleasant interlude which creates a welcome contrast to study and school events.

CLUB

Perhaps the Glee Club plays the most musical part in our "School Symphony." It provides those students who enjoy singing the opportunity to learn new music for the various programs.

To begin the year a pageant was presented with the S. C. A. in observance of American Education Week. The musical reading "Christmas Bells" was a highlight of the Christmas season. The new robes arrived in time for this program, and that was indeed a wonderful surprise. In February, two representatives, Bobby Dooley and Wayne Kinzie, sang in the All State West Chorus. March brought the annual minstrel show with all its accompanying hilarity. We closed the year with the music for May Day and Commencement Exercises.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Editor - A. Murray, Advisor - Mr. Yates,
Business Manager - W. Rocke.

Another school year has passed, a year filled with fun, work and friends. All these have been recorded in this volume of the Warrior for your enjoyment.

Yes, the work on it has been hard and the hours long, but we feel that it has been of value to us, even when the layouts were lost, and the copy wrong!

But it's been fun, too. The times that we met and worked at night provided gaiety and fellowship. And, believe it or not, we accomplished a great deal during those meetings.

It has been our purpose and aim to put the memories of this year in a permanent form that will bring joy and peace to your heart and a song to your lips.

Working to meet the deadline are: E. Huffman, E. Clemmer, E. Brown, A. Murray, and Mr. Huffman.

These Cub members are discovering that a lot of work goes into the "Warrior." Here Mr. Yates helps E. Clemmer, J. Childress, E. Kinzie and J. Maddex with some page layouts.

The blaring out of trumpets in a symphonic production usually introduces a mood of great joy and intense excitement. Surely this is the mood which is typical of our sports events, so we have chosen the trumpet to herald the coming of our pages devoted to sports.

FOOTBALL

Under the leadership of Coach Bobby Camper, the Warriors experienced the most successful session in the history of the school. Their slate of 7 wins out of 8 games set a record.

The season started by defeating the Baby Wolverines of Salem 27 to 7. In the next game they showed their power and determination to win by overpowering William Fleming J.V.'s 41 to 0. The first county game was a winner over Eagle Rock 26 to 6.

The season was concluded by facing the Blue Devils of Buchanan, to determine the Botetourt County Championship. The play was close, but the Warriors were able to push over for the winning touchdown in the closing seconds of the game, and with this game they were able to retain the championship.

So soon it's come,

Too - that time for parting;

The prelude has been played

And we, the composers stand - awaiting

That which shall ensue -

The Rhapsody of Life.

Now each one must play his part -

Alone!

Alone upon the stage of Time. . . .
